

Make Difference.

Pope Francis recently met with 500 young people in St Peter's Basilica in Rome. There he spoke to them from the heart, asking them to have courage to go forward against the current culture, and to make noise all the while holding on to the values of goodness, beauty and truth.

He Said, Why do I like being with the youth? Because you all have inside your heart a promise of hope. You are bearers of hope. You all, it's true, live in the present, but looking towards the future...you are authors of the future, craftsmen of the future... it is also your responsibility. You all are craftsmen of the future. Why? Because inside of you all you have three desires: the desire of beauty. First, You like beauty, and when you make music, do theatre, make paintings - things of beauty - you are searching for that beauty, you are researchers of beauty. Second: you are prophets of goodness. You all like goodness, to be good. And this goodness is contagious, it helps all others. Third, you are thirsty for truth: to search for the truth And these three desires that you have in your heart, you should bring them forward, to the future, and make a future with beauty, with goodness and with truth. Please, go against the current. Be courageous,...Go against the current of this civilization that is doing so much harm. Go forward, but with the values of beauty, of goodness and of truth.
